CLOSER LOOK: Don't have to be named Moon Unit or Dweezil to see there's some progress here; yes, that nice Beyer last time came on dirt but note a good turf run at this trip in his prior start at DMR, which came off a long layoff; worked well 4 times since to indicat e he's doing well; talent shown so you don't necessarily need to Freak Out if he runs big; lone sib is a 2-time winner, was 3-0-0-2 on turf.

Best effort in 4 turf tries came sprinting so you wonder if this trip is what he wants; the good news is daddy won the G1 Arc and damsire was a top-class turf router in Europe so there's plenty of pedigree to bolster his route abilities; nice to see no d rop, though he shows up as a first-time gelding, which considering that pedigree is a bit disconcerting; at least worked well of late; kin to 2 turf winners in France.

Debut on synthetic in France April 4 was encouraging as he ran on well for 2nd, beating 11 foes; wasn't seen again for 4 months before resurfacing in the U.S. to be a modest 5th; in his defense, not only was that his first try in the U.S. and first off t hat layoff, it was his first on turf AND first routing; nice to see no subsequent layoff or drop or surface switch or distance switch; slow start in that U.S. debut didn't help so if ready to take a step forward he can have a say; kin to 3 turf winners i ncluding Mince (17-7-2-3, $262K, 4 SWs including 1 G3, 3 SPs including 1 G3, all on turf in England).

First 5 starts weren't much and 4 of those came on turf; however, he perked up suddenly routing here Sept. 28; could it be he's more fond of this course or has maturity and experience brought about improvement?; maybe a bit of each; nice to see they keep him at this level and who knows, maybe he's figuring out things and maybe Lezcano has found the key to him...maybe; no surprise he turfs as he's kin to 2 turf winners including Coast of Roan (16-5-4-2, $250K, 14-4-3-2 on turf, 1 SP on turf). -Michael Hammersly

Drops out of the Sp Wt ranks and already knows this layout while boasting plenty of infield experience; steady works last month with no turf racing available nearby and Hernandez rode him once over this course in the spring; fires big shot.

By Blame (10% 2YO sire), dam was 2-for-11 on dirt. Those turf tries yielded exactly nothing to get excited about. That first start on dirt back in July was forgettable, then they shipped her to the lawn twice where she was not a factor. Would need a minor miracle to factor based on current form.

By Tiz the Law (18% 2YO sire), dam was 0-for-2 on dirt. That debut effort was full of promise as she bumped around at the start but still rallied to be third. The female family's loaded with routers, so the distance shouldn't be an issue even though she's only been around one turn so far. If she takes another step forward off that promising debut she's the one to beat.

By Gun Runner (19% 2YO sire), dam was 1-for-9 on dirt sprints. That second-place finish last time was encouraging. What's interesting is Sadler's pointing her right back at a route instead of dropping her into a sprint where that speed might be more effective. Don't dismiss her chances to turn the tables.

By Constitution (14% 2YO sire), dam was 2-for-8 on dirt sprints. She showed plenty of zip last time when she drew off to a clear lead before flattening out late. The fact that they're stretching her out after that speed-burning effort suggests they think the added distance will help her sustain that run.. If she can get a bit more cover early instead of fighting for the lead, she's absolutely live.

By Ghostzapper (11% 2YO sire), dam was 0-for-0 on dirt, Siblings are 2-for-6 on dirt. That debut was about as bad as it gets. She was bumped at the break, never got into any kind of rhythm, and wound up trailing by double-digit lengths. Her works since h ave been just okay without any indication she's sitting on a breakthrough. Would need major improvement to factor.

By Game Winner (3% 2YO sire), dam was 3-for-7 on dirt sprints. That debut wasn't terrible she was wide throughout but steadily improved position late. Just beat some of the best SoCal dirt sprinters in the G1 Bing Crosby at DMR and he seems just as good on turf so the surface switch shouldn't be a bother; has handled the hill decently before and he's got tactical speed and versatility to give his rider options; given time since that Crosby win and he's fire before off the bench; trouble is, you got 18-1 on him in the Crosby whereas you have no chance of getting such a price this time.

Has run well down the hill, though that good run (2nd) came a long time ago (Dec. 2023); at least comes here in good form and that includes 2 nice efforts on DMR turf including a decent 5th in a G3 last time out Aug. 30; speed to be in it from the start; heck, he hasn't been beaten to the first margin call in his last 12 starts (!); good as he's been, could it be he's a bit better going shorter, meaning this longer trip down the hill is pushing it?

Continues his good form; that includes a game 3rd on this hillside course June 7; sure, he's up in class here but he continues his ascent and that good recent work hints he might well be ready to dive into these deeper waters; as noted, he's handled the hill before and the way he finished up in his last 3, all going shorter, say today's longer trip suits.

Those last 3 starts, all routes, were solid and routers with speed often translate well to the hill as they have enough speed to get position and enough foundation to keep running when the 6f horses start gasping for air; he's proven down the hill, too, as he kept on gamely to be 2nd in a stakes on this course on 10/11; has enough speed to get a nice stalking trip and while he hasn't run in 2-plus months his works the past month or so indicate he's ready to go.

Was gone a long time but came back good as ever with a romping SW at LRC last month; if anything he can improve off that run after the long layoff and while there's a surface switch he's been just about as good on turf including a 104 Beyer here in June 2024; only hillside try was solid (2nd) and he's likely a better horse now than he was then.

4 of his last 5 were smart; trouble is, the lone not-so-hot outing in that stretch came on turf whereas those 4 good races came on dirt; at least has handled turf before but you wonder if he's better on dirt; not only that, he's been routing only the pas t 2 years so he moves to a new, sharper trip; the good news is he's in good form and routers with speed often translate well to the hill; still, he, it is a new trip, he moves to footing which might not be his favorite and faces some toughies, most of wh om do consider this their forte.
